Trusted business advisors at the helm.

Twomey Latham has a long history of being Long Island's preeminent firm in the area of business and corporate law, handling matters across Long Island, New York City, and beyond, and representing clients ranging from the smallest local businesses to large corporations. The firm's seasoned corporate attorneys allow Twomey Latham to deliver the expertise and quality of work that clients expect of a much larger firm; however, the firm's structure enables it to provide its clients with a more flexible fee arrangement.

The addition of Scott Handwerker, who was previously at Goodwin Procter LLP and Stroock & Stroock & Lavan LLP, both in Manhattan, marks Twomey Latham's continuing expansion of its corporate group with a growing focus on venture capital and emerging growth companies. Mr. Handwerker has represented individual companies from their earliest stages, as well as individual investors and venture capital funds that invest in such companies.

Twomey Latham also has senior attorneys in a variety of complementary areas, including tax, employment, intellectual property and real estate.

The firm's corporate expertise includes the following areas:

- General Business and Corporate Governance
- M&A
- Emerging Growth Companies
- Venture Capital
- Private Equity and Leveraged Buyouts
- Business Succession Planning
- Employment and Consulting Arrangements
