Nicholas Tantone concentrates his practice in commercial litigation, specifically in the construction and real property dispute fields.

Prior to joining the Firm, Mr. Tantone spent five years as an associate at a firm in Great Neck representing plaintiffs in litigation on major construction projects throughout Long Island and New York City, including assisting clients with the filing and prosecution of Mechanic's Liens as well as Landlord/Tenant work. Mr. Tantone's experience also includes working as an associate at an education law firm in Hauppauge, focusing on all aspects of education law as well as real property disputes and land use issues.

He is admitted to practice in New York State and the Eastern District of New York. He is also a Member of the New York State Bar.

Mr. Tantone earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from Notre Dame University and a Juris Doctor from Fordham Law School.

While in law school, Mr. Tantone was a member of the Intellectual Property Law Journal, and a judicial intern for the Honorable William H. Pauley III of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

Mr. Tantone generally spends his free time with his wife, his two sons and French bulldog. He enjoys cooking, traveling and golfing. Mr. Tantone has deep roots in Suffolk County and is thrilled to be serving the community for years to come.
